

Jamie Anderson

Professor of Leadership & Strategy Antwerp Management School and Visiting Professor at INSEAD

A four-time TEDx speaker, Jamie has been named as a “management guru” by the Financial Times and included on a list of the “top 25 management thinkers” by the journal Business Strategy Review.

Jamie’s research and teaching focuses on the interconnectedness between creativity, innovation, leadership and change. He frequently presents at conferences and events, and facilitates top-team workshops related to the topics of organizational transformation and change. Serving as an executive coach, Jamie has provided personalized mentoring and consulting to C-Suite and Board level executives across three continents.

When he’s not lecturing, consulting or leading workshops, Jamie is an avid cyclist and enjoys his role as owner of a hotel and art gallery. He holds degrees from the University of Melbourne and the London Business School.